DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 1/3/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The Applicant argues that Arakawa does not disclose or suggest the reset element with the reset gate acts as a transverse overflow barrier which is effective to reset a signal charge.

In response, the Examiner understands the Applicant's argument but respectfully disagrees. Since "a transverse overflow barrier" is broadly recited in the claim, this limitation is broadly met by Fig. 4 of Arakawa and col. 1, lines 49-54, wherein the reset gate 3 is considered as a transverse overflow barrier because it creates a transverse overflow barrier at  $\Phi 1$  and  $\Phi 2$ .

In view of the above, the rejection is maintained.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 11/16/2007 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Specification

3. Amendment to specification filed 1/3/2008 is accepted.

Claim Objections

4. Claim 27 is objected to because of the recitation of "a electric signal" in line 3 of the claim. This should be corrected to read as -- an electric signal --. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Arakawa (US 6,031,751).

Regarding claim 27, Arakawa discloses a solid-state image sensor (Figs. 1-7) comprising:

unit pixels (pixels 101 in Fig. 1) each having a photoelectric conversion element (Figs. 2 or 4) for converting incident light into an electric signal charge and then storing (in floating diffusion 1) the signal charge obtained through such photoelectric conversion (see col. 1, lines 35-54 and col. 5, lines 46-64); an amplifying element (source follower circuit 9) effective to amplify the signal charge stored in said photoelectric conversion element into an electric signal (col. 1, lines 55-63); and a reset element (3) effective to reset said signal charge, wherein said reset element is a depletion mode transistor, and the reset gate of said depletion mode transistor is a transverse overflow barrier (see Figs. 2 or 4 and col. 1, lines 49-54, wherein the reset gate 3 is considered as a transverse overflow barrier since it creates an overflow barrier indicated by  $\Phi 1$  and  $\Phi 2$ ).

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
